Lamar's Wise Words.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 23.—In declining to recommend the withdrawal of the appointment of Major Wagoner as pension agent at Knoxville, Tenn., because of certain charges that he uttered "rebel" sentiments, Mr. Lamar says: "Major Wagoner was appointed upon the recommendation of the leading and best citizens of Tennessee of all parties, who represented him as a man fully qualified in integrity, intellect, and character for the duties of the position and as a man endeared to the people by his consistent support during the past twenty years of their lightest and best interests. The fact brought out against him since his commission was issued, that he had given an unjust and untrue vote for disfranchisement when he was a young man not more than twenty-one years old, immediately after the war, when the passions of both sides were roused to the highest pitch, should not now be used to ostracize him from public trust among a people to whose rights and interests he has ever since been true and loyal. We have all been contending that the issues of the war and the passions growing out of it should not be kept alive, and I do not know of any instance in which precept can better be enforced by example than this. Both sides in Tennessee showed the courage to fight; they have also the magnanimity to forgive."

THE CHARLESTON EARTHQUAKE

More Damage Than Reported.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 23.—The damage by the earthquake shock at Summerville yesterday afternoon is much greater than at first stated. About seventy-five chimneys will have to come down. A number of geyers have been discovered, where an oily water spurts up continuously. The water has an odor similar to kerosene oil, and is accompanied by fine sand of different colors. The people of the town are thoroughly worked up again and great uneasiness is felt by all. The force of yesterday's shock was so great that persons found it exceedingly difficult to open doors or get out of their houses to a safer locality, and some cases are reported where persons were thrown down by the shaking. There was a slight shock in Charleston and Summerville at 11:55 last night, but no damage was done.

GALVESTON, TEX., October 23.—A special from Beaumont says: As the confusion and consternation incident to the first effects of the terrible storm subside the citizens are becoming organized on a more thorough and systematic basis for looking after the wants of the flood sufferers, and in addition to finance, supply and house committees they have appointed an investigation committee, whose duty it is to look into the wants and needs of the sufferers, and see that an equitable distribution of supplies and money is made. This committee began its work to-day by opening a registry, where the condition of every survivor will be recorded and his property appraised.
Assistance will then be rendered pro rata according to the size of the families and their inability to care for themselves.

Waggish Students.

AKRON, O., October 23.—The Universalist General Convention wound up last evening with a grand hoax. Some waggish student at Buchtel College had sent printed cards to about one hundred of the delegates, inviting them to take a 5 o'clock dinner at the house of Dr. Cone, president of the college. At the appointed hour the divines turned up, swarming all over the house of the president, much to the dismay of the good doctor and his wife. Some took the joke good naturedly, but others let out on the offending joker in a manner that had no regard for the Universalist creed. An investigation was started among the students by the president to-day to discover the perpetrator.

TERMS OF GERONIMO'S SURRENDER.

What General Miles Says.

NEW YORK, October 23.—The Times' Washington special gives extracts from Gen. Miles' report, though the document has not been given out by the War Department. In regard to Geronimo's surrender Gen. Miles says: "I told him that should they throw down their arms and place themselves entirely at our mercy we should certainly not kill them, but that they must surrender absolutely as prisoners of war and rely upon the Government to treat them fairly and justly." Geronimo surrendered on these terms. Gen. Miles discusses the best way to dispose of Indians in such cases and declares that "arbitrary and absolute banishment is a severe punishment for any people, and its effect upon neighboring tribes has been very salutary heretofore."

The New York Contest for Mayor.

NEW YORK, October 23.—As the canvass for the mayoralty draws to a close the contest grows apace. The Republicans are hopeful that Henry George, the Labor candidate, will draw enough votes from Mr. Hewitt, the candidate of the United Democracy, as will enable them to elect their candidate, Mr. Roosevelt. The heavy registration portends that all parties are alive to the importance of the contest. Mr. George is being pushed with unabated vigor. No less than fourteen George meetings were held throughout the city to-night, and at five of them Mr. George himself was present. He received an ovation wherever he appeared. He was so hoarse, however, he did not attempt to speak.

Big Scheme in Texas.

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS, October 23.—An important project has come to light in connection with the construction of the San Antonio and Arkansas Pass Railroad which will be completed to Corpus Christi in a few weeks. The steel rails have just arrived. The new project has been kept very quiet by the capitalists interested. It consists in a determination to establish a deep water port on the Texas coast where the largest steamers can lay beside wharves. To accomplish this the railroad company will found a new city on Padre Island, twenty miles from Corpus Christi, which will be the gulf terminus of the great systems of roads centering at San Antonio, tapping the cattle and wool districts. Padre island can be reached as easily as Galveston, and at half the expense for bridges. After crossing Padre island the company will build an iron pier two hundred yards into the gulf, and thus reach thirty-five feet of permanent water. New York capitalists are backing the enterprise, and engineers have declared the project feasible. The company has obtained a title to Padre island and bought a large quantity opposite it. The company has a capital of $18,000,000, and from what is known of the project it seems determined to establish a port on the Texas coast that is destined to rival Galveston and take a large share of her ocean trade.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

REVIEW.

NEW YORK, October 23.—The market opened very quietly and without the noisy raiding which prevailed during the latter part of yesterday, and no pressure of stocks for sale. The amount of business was very small, even for a Saturday, and while the bears showed less disposition to hammer prices, the opposing party made no effort to bid them up, being apparently content to look on for a moment. An attack was made on New York Central, it being a stock which is at comparatively neglected; but the effect was very trivial, and the tendency toward the end of the day was decidedly in better prices. We can hardly recall when a market has stood persistent in the way this has done, and we lost our confidence in its close was firm. Money, six per cent. 1 an, four per cent.
